

Logistics for the Virtual ISCEV 2020 Symposium

FOR ALL PARTICIPANTS

- All talks and posters will be available from midnight CEST on September 14th at the address of the meeting <https://virtual-iscev2020.kenes.com/>.
- Although there are times listed for each talk/poster in the program, there will be no actual broadcasts at these times. Rather, this time can be used for you to view the presentations that will be discussed in the live Q&A session.
- During the live Q&A sessions you will have the opportunity to ask questions to the speakers in the session. These questions will have to be submitted by writing to the chairs of the session using a chat area on your screen. The chairs and speakers for the session will be seen and heard. The chair will direct questions to the appropriate speaker.
- For other live sessions the format will be similar. Everyone will be able to see and hear chairs and panelists, but all other participants will only be able to communicate to the Panel through chat.
- Meeting sponsors will have booths available where you can learn of their products and contact their representatives.
- There will be voting during the membership meeting and the process will be explained by the Society President and Secretary General at that time.
- There will also be a chat room in the lobby of the meeting, where you can chat with other participants who are on-line.

FOR CHAIRS OF THE SCIENTIFIC SESSIONS

- Please allocate a maximum of 5 minutes for discussion of each talk in your session
- Prepare a question or two for each talk/poster in case there are none from participants
- If there is time at the end you can open up the floor for any additional comments or questions
- Please contact your co-chair and decide who will be responsible for leading the discussion of each presentation.